

Neel's IMPRS
Pub Quiz:
Mamma mia,
Here I go again

IMPRS Retreat 2024

Rules

1. The quiz is designed in a way as to allow everyone one deduce the answer (if you have not been living under a rock)
2. Each question carries 10 points. If no one answers correctly on the first try, a hint will be given and the points go down to 5.
3. The scoring for this quiz is a bit special; alongside the regular scoring, we also have a “fun meter”. Each funny answer will get you a “fun point”. The fun point scoring is independent of the regular scoring. So if you don’t know an answer, try being funny ;) (PS: Being funny sure has its benefits, which you will soon realise at the end of the quiz :)
4. Don’t be disheartened if you don’t know an answer. The entire point of this is to have fun or to prove to everyone how smart you are hahahahahahaha
5. The word of the quizmaster is final and binding. Not everything is a democracy...

It's time for team names

Find X

On July 16, 1995, X opened as an online bookseller, selling the world's largest collection of books to anyone with World Wide Web access. The first book sold on X.com was Douglas Hofstadter's Fluid Concepts and Creative Analogies: Computer Models of the Fundamental Mechanisms of Thought.

Amazon

Explain.

See the positions of the buttons on men's and women's shirt. Explain the reason for this difference.

Surprisingly...

During the Renaissance and the Victorian Era, women's clothing was often much more complicated and elaborate than men's—think petticoats, corsets and bustles—and therefore more difficult for the wearer to secure themselves.

To make it easier for servants (right-handed ones, that is) to button up their employers' dresses, clothiers might have started sewing buttons on the opposite side. Men's shirts, meanwhile, were designed for wearers to button on their own. Eventually, as mass-produced clothing became more and more common, the design became standard.

Who????

This girl is the talk of the town. You will never see her without her sweet bird friend.

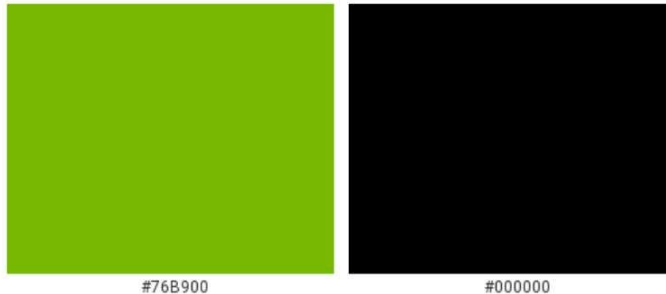

Every year, thousands of people flock to this quiet city to see her. Especially at 4 very specific times in the year. Apparently, she is considered the most kissed girl in the world, which is an interesting title to say the very least.

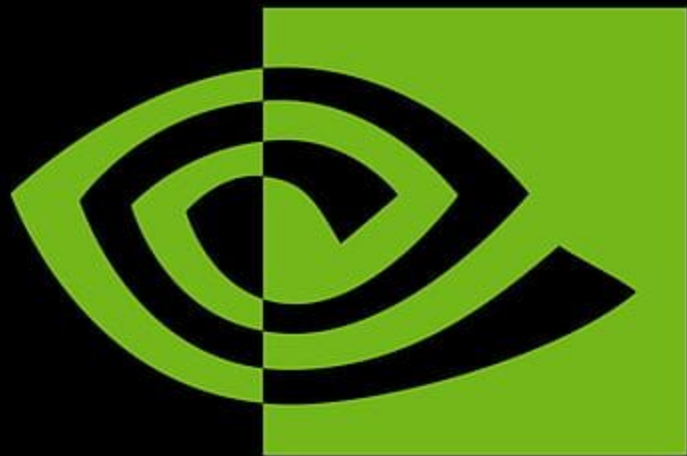

Ganseliesel

Identify the company.

_____ is the latin word for envy. When you remove the first letter of the latin word, you get the name of an American technology company that has of late started focussing on artificial intelligence and surpassed Microsoft to become the most valued company in the world in June. The colour green is used to represent envy, and this company has a logo in two shades. Which company am I talking about?

nVIDIA®

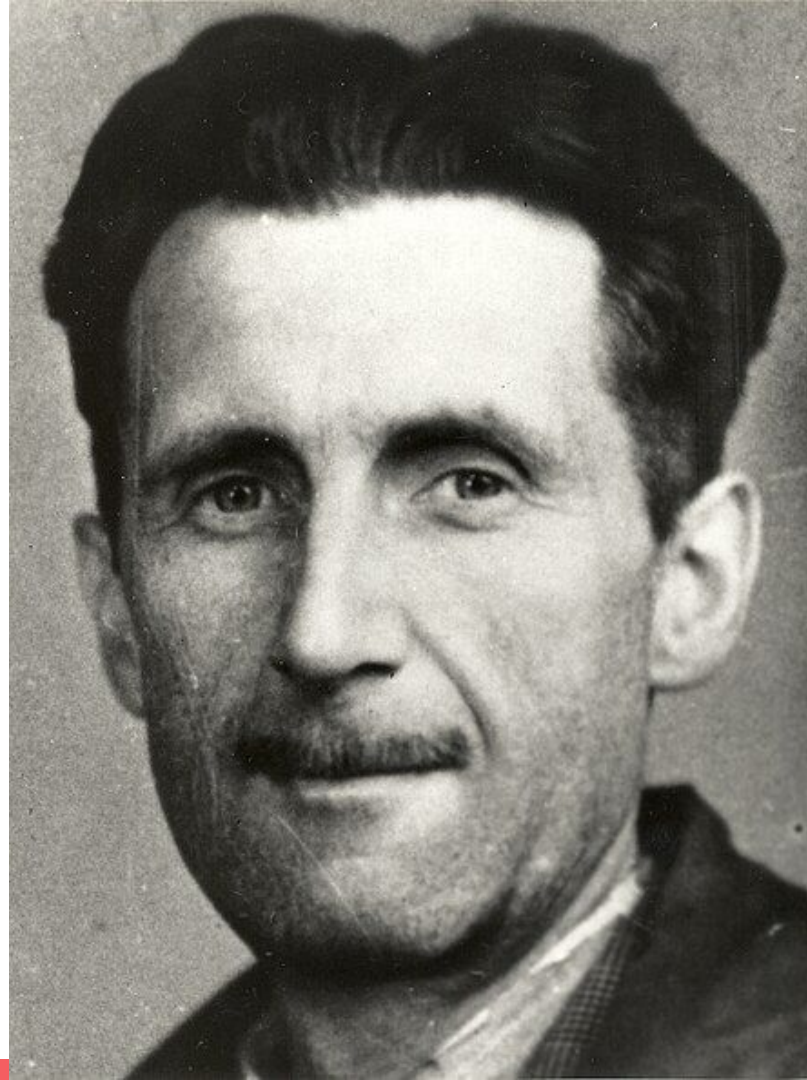

Identify the person.

Eric Arthur Blair was born in Motihari, India on 25th June, 1903. He is considered one the greatest writers in the world and wrote under the pen name _____. His work remains influential in popular culture and in political culture, and the adjective "_____"—describing totalitarian and authoritarian social practices—is part of the English language, like many of his neologisms, such as "Big Brother", "Thought Police", "Room 101", "Newspeak", "memory hole", "doublethink", and "thoughtcrime".

Who am I talking about?

George Orwell

How do we identify people with this condition?

Heterochromia iridium is a condition caused by the excess or deficiency of melanin. It may be caused by genetic mosaicism, disease or injury. It can manifest in three ways ie complete, segmental and central. The scientific consensus is that the primary cause behind this condition is a lack of genetic diversity.

Explain.

According to Herodotus' Histories, ancient Persian politicians used to debate laws and new policies on day 1. If they found it to be a good policy, they would call it a day and resume discussions on day 2. The debates on day 2 would be a fresh start, with nothing carried forward from the discussions the previous day. The law would be passed only if it seems acceptable in the debates on both days.

What is the difference between the debates on days 1 and 2?

Alcoholism is bad, kids...

Day 1 - Sober

Day 2 - Drunk

Find X and Y

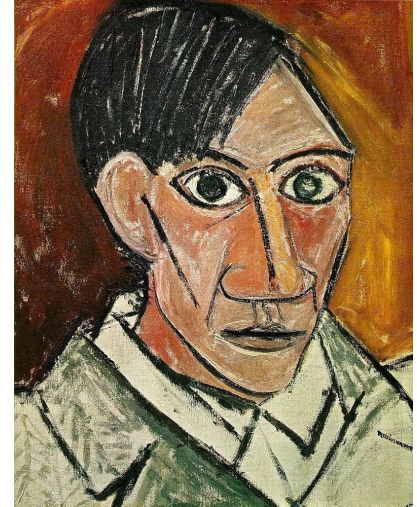

The Cowherd and the Weaver Girl are characters found in Chinese mythology and appear eponymously in a romantic Chinese folk tale. The story tells of the romance between the weaver girl (symbolized by the star X) and the cowherd, (symbolized by the star Y). Despite their love for each other, their romance was forbidden, and thus they were banished to opposite sides of the heavenly river (symbolizing the Milky Way). Once a year, on the seventh day of the seventh lunar month, a flock of magpies would form a bridge to reunite the lovers for a single day. X lies within the constellation of Lyra which is said to be the harp played by the legendary Greek musician Orpheus and Y is the brightest star in the constellation Aquila.

X: Vega , Y: Altair

Who?????

_____ Diego José Francisco de Paula Juan Nepomuceno
María de los Remedios Cipriano de la Santísima Trinidad Ruiz y
_____ was a Spanish painter, sculptor, printmaker, ceramicist, and theatre designer who spent most of his adult life in France. One of the most influential artists of the 20th century, he is known for co-founding the Cubist movement, the invention of constructed sculpture, the co-invention of collage, and for the wide variety of styles that he helped develop and explore.

Pablo Picasso

Identify the song.

" _____ " is a cover of the 1998 song "Doggie" (or "Dogie") by Trinidadian artist Anslem Douglas. Douglas himself has said that the song has nothing to do with dogs and actually has a feminist theme critical of men who catcall women. In an interview that was published on his website, he said:

"It's a man-bashing song. I'll tell you why. The lyric of the song says, 'The party was nice, the party was pumpin'. When I said the word 'party' I was being metaphorical. It really means things were going great. The 'Yippie-Yi-Yo,' that's everybody's happy, right? 'And everybody was having a ball.' Life was going great. 'Until the men start the name-callin' / And then the girls respond to the call.' So the men started calling the women 'skank' and 'skettel,' every dirty word you can think of. The men started the name-calling and then the girls respond to the call. And then a woman shouts out, ' _____ ' And we start calling men dogs. It was really a man-bashing song."

Who let the dogs out??

Guess...

What is Cinderella's real name?

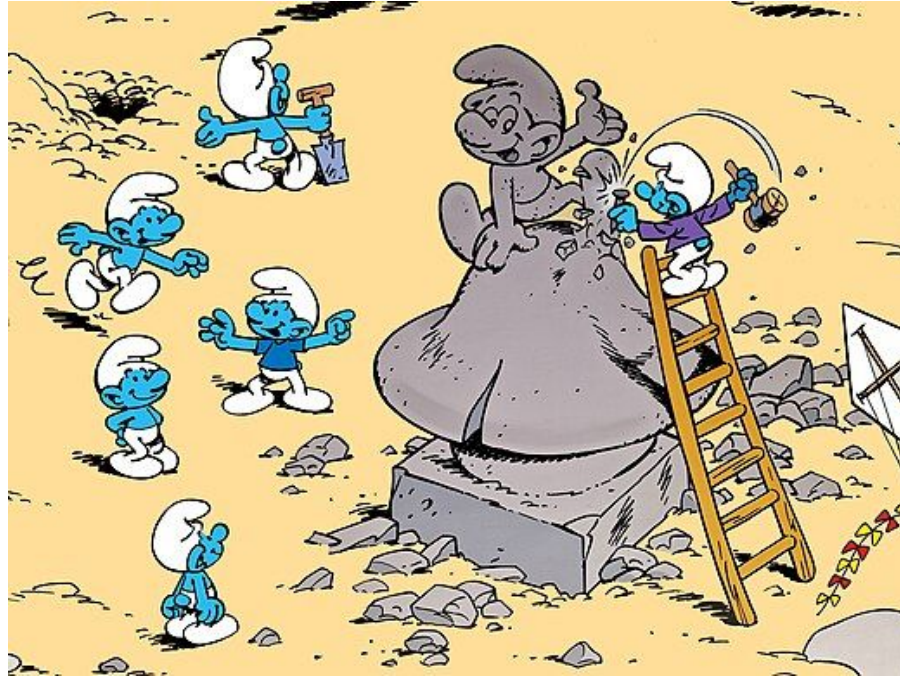

Ella

Find the connection.

Papa, Brainy, Greedy, Vanity, Lazy, Clumsy, Hefty, Jokey, Dreamy, Grouchy, Poet, Actor, Handy, Harmony, Farmer, Clockwork, Painter, Tailor, Miner, Architect, Reporter, Timber, Barber and Doctor.

These are Smurf Names

Find X.

Diagraphophobia is an irrational (but sometimes rational) fear of X.

Someone who suffers from X would likely have a Github/Google Drive/OneDrive account.

Fear of deleting files or losing computer data

Guess the song and the artist

The lyrics of "X" by Y are a masterclass in turning personal criticism into a universal anthem of resilience. With its punchy and repetitive hooks, the song delivers a message that is both playful and defiant. Y uses simple, direct language to express a philosophy of letting go of negativity and embracing a carefree attitude in the face of judgment.

A self-described player who is always going to play, play, play, play, play, Y reduces her detractors to mere background noise as their philosophy is life will always be to hate, hate, hate, hate, hate.

Y also mockingly encourages the listeners to not be bogged down by the liars and dirty, dirty cheats of this world, and to rather be getting down to the beat laid down by Y.

X is both a reflection of Y's personal experiences and a universal anthem for anyone looking to rise above criticism and negativity with confidence and a sense of fun.

X: Shake it Off, Y: Taylor Swift

Fill in the blank.

Kenneth G. Libbrecht is a professor of physics at the California Institute of Technology (Caltech). A North Dakota native, Ken essentially studies the physics of _____. He has authored several books on this topic

- The _____: Winter's Secret Beauty (with Patricia Rasmussen photography)
- Ken Libbrecht's Field Guide to _____
- The Little Book of _____
- The Art of the _____: A Photographic Album

According to him, _____ can be categorised into 35 categories, some of which are Column, Plane, Column and Plane, Rimed and Aggregation etc.

Snowflakes.

Time for scores!

SO LONG AND...

Thanks for all the fish!